

YankeeKicks

Dazzling displays on a tight deadline

YankeeKicks, a retailer of hard-to-find sneakers and apparel, needed signage and fixtures for its flagship store. Unfortunately, four other fabricators turned down the job only a month prior to grand opening.

Taylor fabricated letters 10 feet tall, precision-cut via CNC and illuminated with energy-efficient LEDs. Custom-designed acrylic product fixtures suspended from the ceiling completed the environment – all delivered and installed in just three weeks.

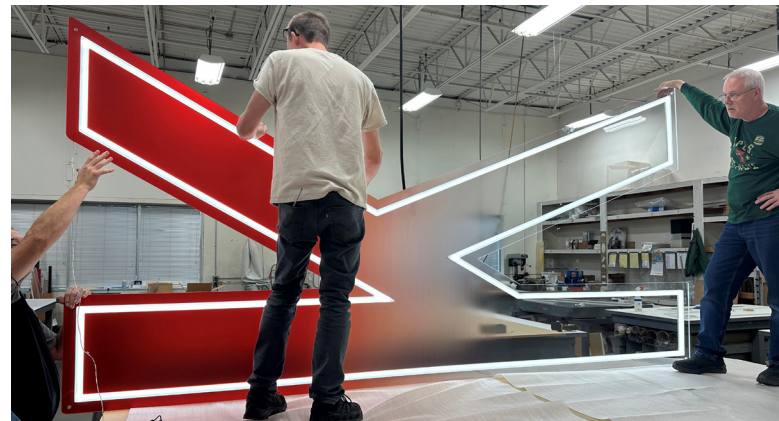

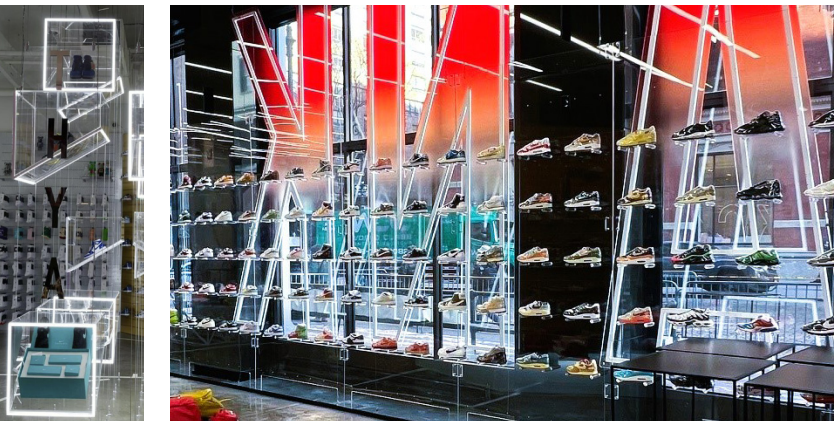

CASE STUDY

I can't say enough about Taylor. They took on a project no one else would and got everything done beautifully and on time.
